PARTICIPANTS IN BREACH-OF-PROMISE CASE.

On account of the importance of the case, the committee having charge of the details of the great Mock Court trial to be given under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E. of the Congregational church in Seaver's hall on Wednesday evening, Sept. 6th, have secured the services of Col. A. V. Newton of Worcester, Mass., as prosecuting attorney, while the defendant, not to be outdone, has retained F. W. Baldwin to defend his hitherto good reputation.

Col. Newton is widely known as an eloquent off-hand speaker, but Mr. Baldwin will make the battle of his life, and will undoubtedly make it exceedingly warm for the gentleman from Worcester.

As there is a general desire to know who are to take part in the trial, we publish the list in full. It will be a long time before so many of our prominent people are again seen in just such a relation and it will be well for all who desire an evening of rare enjoyment to be present and hear what they have to say about the breach of promise case.

This is the make-up of the court: Judge, F. D. Thompson; Clerk, W. W. Reiden; Plaintiff, A. Clemma Seaver; Defendant, Wallace H. Gilpin; Defendant's attorney, Hon. F. W. Baldwin.

Prosecuting attorney, Col. A. V. Newton of Worcester, Mass.; Court officer, George E. Jennings; Witnesses, Dr. F. R. Hastings, C. A. Barrows, Mrs. Daisy Baldwin, Miss Aftian Scott and Dr. J. A. Pearson. The jurors will be announced later.

WILL HAVE GUEST DAY

Barton Improvement Club to Entertain on September 15. Everyone Invited to Partake of Barton's Hospitality.

An idea new to this part of Vermont is to be launched by the Barton Improvement club by inaugurating a "Barton Guest Day" on Friday, September 15, when the town will throw open its doors, so to speak to the people of the surrounding territory and give them of its hospitality. There will be free moving picture shows, free boat rides on the lake, a free ball game and in the evening a great free corn roast on the fair ground.

This is simply a turn-about proposition from the Barton Improvement club, which represents the business, professional and in a sense the social and educational side of the town, with the simple idea of entertaining for a day those who make Barton their railroad, school, mercantile or banking center in any sense. There are absolutely no strings on the proposition. There are no bargain sales on, no advertising schemes, no catch games of any kind, but a sincere and simple desire to reciprocate for the patronage the town has received from the territory it endeavors to serve.

Plan now to spend Friday, Sept. 15, in Barton as the guests of the Barton Improvement club, and watch for further announcements and particulars.

Mrs. Howland of Newport, N. H., is visiting her son, W. P. Howland, at Hotel Barton.

Over 500 people from Barton, Orleans, Newport and other towns attended the barn dance in the new Peene barn at Westmore last night. Music was furnished by Sawyer's orchestra and all are enthusiastic over the good time enjoyed.

SCHOOL OPENING POSTPONED

By recommendation of the Vermont state board of health, as a precautionary measure against an epidemic of infantile paralysis, State Commissioner of Education Hillegas has notified superintendents to withhold the opening of all schools in the state until September 18. This means that Barton academy and graded school as well as all town schools everywhere in the state will not open before Sept. 18, notwithstanding other plans. Commissioner Hillegas's communication to Supt. Erwin reads in part as follows: "At a special meeting of the state board of health held last evening, (Thursday, Aug. 24) it was voted to request us to delay the opening of the schools until September 18th.

"Briefly summarized the situation is as follows: No known cases of infantile paralysis now exist in Vermont. They do exist in each adjoining state and it is believed to be inevitable that we will have cases here. Outbreaks of this disease in Vermont have always been a month or more later than those in states south of us. The members of the board of health believe that September will be the critical month here and that we should take every possible precaution. No part of the state is immune from the disease.

I was present at the meeting by invitation. I assured the board that to the extent of our ability we would cheerfully comply with any request that they deemed it advisable to make of us. I know that the delay will change the present and future plans of many teachers, but coming now, superintendents should be able to adjust vacation and possibly the date of closing schools so that there can be no excuse for any town withholding a part of the teachers' salary."

State surveyors are doing some work on Main street preparatory to putting in a sidewalk on the east side of the street. New cement sidewalks have been put in on Lincoln avenue and one is being put in on Elm street. Both were much needed.

Many persons believe the last band concert of the season has been given, but the Monitor is glad to say that there are to be three more Saturday evening band concerts. Never before have the concerts been so largely patronized and enjoyed.

The ball game on the fair grounds Saturday afternoon between Barton and Orleans was a game much more even than the score of 8 to 4 in favor of Orleans, would indicate, and when a return
